PROFILE

Hello! I'm Brogan Farr, a voice actress with three years of experience based in the South West of England. My natural voice is British RP, and I can also perform a range of accents including Welsh and West Country. I've worked across video games, animation, commercial projects and narration.

I've loved video games since I was young, and that passion has shaped the many characters I've brought to life – from sinister villains to warm farmers to noble queens.

I'm able to work remotely or travel within the UK for sessions.
